CHICAGO GOES DOWN

Before the Heavy Reliance Club Team.

DEFEATED BY A SCORE OF 6 TO 0

Reliance Roundly Hissed by the Crowd for Rough Treatment of the Visitors.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 1.—Battered and weakened by two hard contests, the Chicago university football team went up against the giants of the Reliance Athletic club for the third game in one week and suffered defeat by a score of 6 to 0. Chicago was demoralized by the loss of some of its best players. Ewing left for the east today, Gale was sick and Hirschberger, the only man in the team who could kick, had to retire in favor of Yandt before the game had hardly commenced. Herring also was in bad condition, but pluckily played the game through. The Reliance men outweighed the Chicagos by an average of twenty pounds, and the weight told. Chicago's interference was broken up, their fast runners could not get around the ends, and everything went Reliance way until the last fifteen minutes of the game, when Chicago braced up and Reliance was forced to take the defensive. The Reliance team was composed of ex-college men and contained some of the crack players on the coast. Among them were Clemans and Walton, Stanford's famous half-backs of two years ago. Reliance scored during the first ten minutes of the game. Clemans and Walton made long runs around the ends, and the heavy Reliance men crushed through Chicago's center. Clemans carried the ball over the line for a touchdown by a twenty-yard run and Oliver kicked the goal. These were the only points made in the game. Reliance was interfering splendidly, and made good tackles, though the big men played a rough game. Sherrard of the Reliance team deliberately struck Yandt, who had been tackled, and then knelt on his head as hard as he could. In the second half Wyant of Chicago was struck in the face and knocked over. This sort of play did not please the crowd, and Reliance was roundly hissed. The first half ended with the ball on Chicago's thirty-five-yard line. Chicago kicked off for a second half, and Reliance by center plays worked the ball down to Chicago's fifteen-yard line. The attack on Wyant seemed to madden the Chicago men, and they gave an exhibition of Chicago pluck that made the crowd cheer. Coy was pushed through center for numerous gains. Time after time the big Reliance men were carried back by Coy, Allen, Wyant and others and it looked as if Chicago would score. The ball was worked down to Reliance's fifteen yard line and the Chicago men were playing like demons. Five minutes more of such play would have given them a touchdown, but time was up and the game ended in a victory for Reliance. The Chicago team will leave tomorrow for the east, stopping at Salt Lake to play a game.

FAIR'S WILL.

A Plan to Get Around the Forfeiture Clause.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 1.—Charles L. Fair's legal advisers propose a plan by which he can contest his father's will, and not jeopardise his interests by running foul of the forfeiture clause. The scheme is for Mrs. Oelrichs and Miss Fair to guarantee that if he loses the suit and forfeits his share, they shall equally share with him in the remaining two-thirds of the trust revenue. It is thought Mrs. Oelrichs will not like the idea of leaving the management of the estate to trustees.

OAKLAND'S COURT HOUSE.

The Supervisors to be Indicted for Accepting the Work.

OAKLAND, Cal., January 1.—It is stated that the present grand jury will bring indictments against the Board of Supervisors for accepting the work done on the annex to the hall of records at a cost of $80,000. The first rain storm this season washed away the stucco work any did other damage, so that the building at present looks like the ruins of an ancient castle.

Stanford Defeats Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, January 1.—The Stanford football team defeated the Los Angeles Athletic Club today in a one-sided game. Los Angeles took the ball first, but after three minutes' play Stanford scored a touchdown and goal, and when the ball was again brought into play the Palo Alto men repeated the performance. Score for the first half, Stanford 12, Los Angeles 0. The second half brought Stanford's score up to 28, with Los Angeles still lacking. The Los Angeles club played a plucky game, but could not score against the University men.

Oranges Go Up.

SAN BERNARDINO, January 1.—Within the last few days buyers of oranges have been active in this vicinity picking up choice lots at advantageous prices. The news of the disaster to the crop in Florida has resulted in an advance from 50 cents per box heretofore offered in the orchard, to $1 per box. Growers are much encouraged, and are now holding seedlings and navels at $1.50 to $2.50 per box.

Want Mills to Resign.

FORT WORTH, Tex., January 1.—A resolution which will be introduced in the next legislature has been framed here requesting Senator Mills to resign his seat in the senate, on the ground that he does not represent Texas, and setting forth that he has refused to indorse Texas men for positions and declined to interest himself in having a national bankruptcy law passed.

County Treasurer Commits Suicide.

CARSON, January 1.—J. A. Hunton, treasurer of Lyon county, committed suicide last night at his home in Dayton by shooting himself through the head. He was short over $5000 of county money, but the A.O.U.W. money left in his care is all right. He left letters explaining his action.

Supposed to Have Been Lynched.

ONEIL, Neb., January 1.—Garret ... the Holt county embezzler, was ... from his house by a masked mob ... after a desperate struggle and ... been lynched.

BUDD'S SECRETARIES.

Colnon's Appointment Said to be Only Temporary.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 1.—By Friday members of the legislature will be gathered at Sacramento. Many of them will not stop over in San Francisco, but will go directly to the capitol. Mr. Budd is in Stockton but will go to Sacramento Thursday and will remain as the guest of Governor Markham at the Sutter club until his inauguration. It is said that Colnon's appointment as private secretary will be only temporary and that Mr. Budd intends to give him a better and less arduous position after the legislature adjourns. It is believed that Ed McCabe of Merced will be executive secretary.

FLORIDA'S FRUIT CROP.

First Reports of the Loss Not Exaggerated.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., December 31.—The first reports of Florida's loss in citrus fruits from the extraordinary cold snap that visited this state three days ago were not exaggerated. The best estimates of the loss in oranges was $5,000,000, without counting the young orange trees killed and the general destruction of pineapples, limes, guavas and bananas and winter vegetables, which must have made heavy the apparent losses. The most careful computation is that 3,000,000 boxes were on the trees.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

TO CELEBRATE THE ADVENT OF THE NEW YEAR.

After Getting Drunk They Return to Complete Their Sentences.

PITTSBURG, Kan., January 1.—Six inmates of the city jail escaped last night by digging through the outside wall of the corridor. They went to Litchfield, about four miles away, and spent the night celebrating the advent of the New Year. Five of them hired a carriage and returned this morning and demanded admittance to the jail to complete their sentences. All were pretty drunk and apparently enjoyed the joke they had played upon the officers. Will Nickens, who was awaiting preliminary examination on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, failed to return with the others. He is still at large.

Sat on a Child and Killed It.

WALLACE, Ida., January 1.—The firemen's ball at Burke last night was broken up about 11 o'clock by a sad fatality. Mrs. John Bresnaham left her 11-months-old girl asleep in the carriage in the dressing room. During her absence some lady, whose name is not given, sat on the child and killed it.

WHEEL AGAINST HORSE

CHALLENGE BY JACK PRINCE CHAMPION BICYCLIST.

Willing to Race With Flying Jib or any Horse in Mr Salisbury's String.

John S. Prince, or "Jack" Prince as he is better known to the bicycle world, arrived in Fresno yesterday morning from Los Angeles. He went to that city from San Francisco to arrange a race between himself and Flying Jib, or Robert J., or any other horse in Mr. Salisbury's string, or any bicycle rider who would race against him. But when he arrived there he was informed that the horses and the owners had pulled out for Fresno. Accordingly he followed, and is here now trying to arrange a race with any horse for any distance. He has issued a challenge to anyone who will ride against him. He will ride his bicycle in any kind of race for a purse on a stake bet.

Mr. Prince has an enviable bicycle record. He has been riding a wheel for fifteen years. At the age of 19 he was the champion bicyclist of Europe, defeating all comers in France, Ireland, Scotland and England. He came to America in 1882 and defeated all comers in the championship of America. He held every world's record from one-quarter of mile up, from 1882 to 1886. Some of his short distance records have since then been beaten. But he still holds every world's record from fifty miles to 1042 miles. The latter distance was made in Minneapolis in 1888 in seventy-two consecutive hours and he was out of the saddle only seven minutes in that time, defeating a field of eleven starters, and winning $1000. That record has never been beaten. His mile record is 1.50, made in London one year ago last October. That was the world's record at that time.

His home is in New York, although he is an Englishman by birth. He came from the east to take part in the big races in San Francisco next month. He is in splendid condition, weighing 170 pounds, and with muscles as hard as steel. His wheel weighs eighteen pounds and is geared to seventy-two inches. He rode a twenty mile race three weeks ago against two fast horses at San Jose, making the twenty miles in 55 minutes without a pace-maker; as they would not allow him pace-makers. This was only eight seconds behind the best world's record, and was considered a great performance, as the track was heavy. In twenty-six six-days' races he has lost only two. The races he has been in and the prizes won are too many to be named in this article. He has won more than 80 per cent of the races he has entered.

It is to be hoped that he can get up a race here with some one of the fast horses next Friday. It would be a great event, and the people would have a chance to see one of the fastest horses in the world and one of the swiftest bicyclist in a race for the coin.

Something New.

A sure, speedy and positive cure for all kinds of coughs, colds, fevers, biliousness and liver complaints, and also a speedy and certain cure for private diseases at the Golden Rule Drug Store, where all kinds of pure drugs and patent medicines are sold cheaper than anywhere else in Fresno; where a doctor of long experience and a graduate of the best medical schools of Europe and America can be consulted and prescribed free of charge. Satisfaction guaranteed. Golden Rule Drug Store, 1730 Mariposa street, next to Bank of Central California.

SACRAMENTO AROUSED

General Kelly Listens to Some War Talk.

AND CONCLUDES TO DEPART

A Man Arrested for Complicity in the Webber Murder.

SACRAMENTO, January 1.—The recent and brutal murder and robbery of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. L. Webber and other crimes have aroused such indignation in this community that there has been a scattering of the hobo element in the last twenty-four hours. Kelly, their leader, was taken to Chief of Police Drew's office last night, where he listened to some war talk. Mr. Kelly concluded to depart this morning and there was nobody to harangue the hobo meeting tonight. A number of his followers went with him.

It was ascertained this morning that another house was plundered last night in the absence of the family, and an attempt on another failed because the burglar was frightened away. However, he left an ax on the porch as an evidence of his purpose.

A man was arrested today on suspicion of complicity in the Webber murder. The officers claim that his shoes are bloodstained, but he says they were reddened by contact with snow in the mountains. It is claimed also that his socks show blood stains, which he says are leather stains.

Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning a man employed as driver by a meat market was found at Twelfth and K streets with his head terribly beaten. He says two men garroted and robbed him, but were driven off by a citizen who shot at them. In the meantime a man was found a block away with a bullet hole in his breast. He told two young men that he and a friend had some trouble with another man, and that he was shot. They placed him on a street car, and he rode down town to Fourth street, and then left the car and disappeared. The man who had been beaten insists that the others were the garroters, and that a citizen shot at them. That citizen has not shown up, and it is not unlikely that the affair was the result of a night's spree.

Mrs. Harry Holburn reported to the police tonight that her husband, who is a temperance man, left home this morning to attend to some business matters and had not since been seen by his family. He had some money and checks on his person and she fears something has happened to him. Holburn is traveling agent for a sewing machine company. The police think he will show up all right.

George Selby, principal of the Belmont school, returned yesterday from the hills, where he spent his holidays hunting. He had poor luck, and saw no game of any sort, not even a quail.

ADVICES FROM TURKEY

THE ORDER GIVEN TO THE TURKISH ARMY.

One Soldier Boasted That He Killed Thirty Pregnant Women.

BOSTON, January 1.—A letter received here from the scene of the outrages in eastern Turkey places the number of slaughtered Armenians at 15,000. The order given to the Turkish army which was sent to put down the alleged rebellion in Armenia, was whoever spares a man, woman or child is disloyal. The region was surrounded by soldiers and 20,000 Kurds. They gradually closed in, driving the inhabitants to the center like a flock of sheep. No quarter was given and no mercy shown. The men were killed instantly, but the women and girls were kept a few days for the sport of the soldiers and then killed. One soldier boasted that he alone had killed thirty pregnant women.

MUST LEARN TO SMOKE.

Those Women Who Will Persist In Occupying the Reserved "Smokers."

A few months ago the Philadelphia street car companies began running smoking cars in response to a popular demand for them. It has been found almost impossible to keep women out of these cars, and, to make matters worse, the smokers, unable to resist the claims of politeness, have been cheerfully surrendering their seats to the women. Things have now got to such a pass that the latter have become masters of the situation.

"Day by day," says an observer, "the feminine travel upon the smoking cars has increased. That man is lucky who can now cling to the edges of the car and fondly hope that he may smoke in peace after the long journey is over and he has reached the secluded precincts of his office or home. The women not only claim the smoking car as their own, but they have begun to stare coldly at such men as now venture timidly into the cars which were prepared especially for them."

The question whether the men have a right to smoke in a smoking car in the presence of women has been settled by the latter in the negative, and an offender was actually ejected from one of these cars the other day by a man accompanying an indignant woman. What makes the persistence of the women singular is that the smoking cars are much less comfortable and attractive than those provided for general use. The Philadelphia newspapers are courageously supporting the men in this emergency and urging them to stand on their rights. "The women," one newspaper makes bold to say, "must yield the cars to men, or they (the women) must learn to smoke."—New York Post.

A JAIL DELIVERY.

Six Desperate Prisoners Saw Out of a Missouri Jail.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., January 1.—Six desperate prisoners sawed their way out of the Buchanan county jail during the night. The fact was not known until 3 o'clock this morning. By that time the men who, it was later learned, were all armed had made good their escape. The prisoners are Patrick Crowe, Ira Gurtner, Joe Dusty, William Fulmer and James Owens. Crowe is a desperate man, wanted in a half dozen places for serious crimes. Dusty was under sentence of death for rape, a stay of execution having been granted to allow the supreme court to pass upon the case. Owens was an Atchison county prisoner also sentenced to hang, and his case is also before the supreme court. The other men were in jail for larceny. The prisoners escaped by sawing the iron bars of the corridor window and lowering themselves to the ground with ropes. Four saws were found in the jail this morning. Thomas Hickman, a trusty, was found lying bound and gagged in the corridor, but the authorities assert that he furnished the tools, and that he released the prisoners from the cells into the corridor.

Organized to Reduce Wages.

NITTAYUSNA, Miss., January 1.—Mississippi planters have organized for a reduction of wages. The best male labor will receive 50 cents per day, and $5 per month with rations the maximum to the best laborers.

DIVIDING A COUNTY.

CHAMPAGNE AND CIGARS ARE NECESSARY.

Whisky and Mineral Water Also Useful in Promoting Division.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

That it takes a great deal of liquid refreshment as well as narcotics, in the way of fragrant cigars, to divide a county of this state is made evident by a suit filed in the justice's court yesterday. While the action is to recover a small sum from the legislative committee engaged in the work of dividing Fresno county and known as the "Madera Divisionists," it treats of cigars and champagne in large quantities.

The plaintiff is Christopher Charles Whelan and the defendants J. M. Griffin and others of the "Madera Divisionists." The complaints sets forth:

That the said J. M. Griffin, William Maze, L. O. Sharp, W. H. LaLue, John Doe and Richard Roe, were according to the best information and belief of the plaintiff herein, members of a committee to represent certain citizens of the county of Fresno, state of California, to procure an act of the legislature of said state for the purpose of creating a new county.

That said committee was known as the "Madera Divisionists."

That between the first day of January, 1893, and the first of March, 1893, said defendants occupied certain rooms in the —— hotel at the city of Sacramento, the capital of the said state of California.

That said defendants announced in a public manner that they would require the services of several young men to act in the capacities of messenger, door-keeper, etc.

That said plaintiff hearing of this opportunity to procure employment, procured a letter of introduction and recommendation from Senator G. G. Goucher of the city of Fresno, introducing said plaintiff to and recommending his employment by said defendants.

That it was with the understanding that said plaintiff should receive the sum of $3 a day for each and every day of actual service that said defendants employed the said plaintiff.

That between the 14th day of January, 1893, and the 24th of February, 1893, said plaintiff did render to his employers, the said defendants, valuable and efficient service.

That such service was laborious and difficult to perform, and that the sum of $3 a day was at best but poor and meager recompense for the arduous tasks performed.

That, to the best knowledge and belief of this plaintiff, said defendants did purchase goods and merchandise as follows: 2000 cigars, 150 bottles mineral water, 150 bottles ginger ale, 1 box apples and 760 bottles of champagne.

That said services rendered by plaintiff were laborious, arduous and difficult to perform by reason of his being assigned to the duty of opening boxes of cigars, the box of apples and extracting the corks from the bottles containing either mineral water, ginger ale or champagne.

They were laborious in that he was employed between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 o'clock the following a.m.; arduous, in that he was employed during these long hours in labor that required his utmost activity; efficient in that service required extreme caution not to serve whisky or Shasta water when champagne was ordered, or serve apples when cigars were called for.

That between the dates aforesaid plaintiff performed thirty-eight and one-third days' service, for which he did not receive the compensation which he was given to understand he would receive, save and except the sum of $60 to him in hand paid in partial payments, each of a small amount.

That to the best information and belief of said plaintiff the defendants were in the possession of a fund of not less than $7500. Notwithstanding this they neglected to pay the entire wages earned by this plaintiff, but there yet remains due and unpaid the sum of $55, which the said defendants have refused to pay, though often asked to do so.

Wherefore said plaintiff demands judgment against said defendants in the sum of $55 and costs of suit.

A Town With No Lawyers.

In the town of Oberweisenthal, in Saxony, disputes between the inhabitants are so rare that there is no room for a lawyer. A Leipsic merchant, who applied to the tribunal at Oberweisenthal for the address of a counsel, received the following reply, "We have the honor to inform you that there is no advocate here, but the barber, Fritz Biel, represents the interests of litigants in civil cases."

THE NEW YEAR.

The year which ended at 12 o'clock yesterday morning will be long remembered for its hard trials and business tribulations, but the keenness of the disappointment which it brought to many will be modified by a well defined ...e that improved conditions are in ...for them in the New Year.

With a full knowledge of all the dis...ragements of the past, THE REPUBLI... bids its readers be of good cheer and enter upon the new year with a firm ...ermination to make the best of its ...ortunities, be they great or small. ...may have been the misfor... ...it cannot fail to ...g advantages in ...taught—lessons ... people cannot ...ht with it the ...n era of wild... ...masses of the ...ated beyond ...turn to the ...hods of the ...y. ...rprise and ...heir day. ...nted to ... the ...ncial grasp, and ...mortgage does not play the ...portant part. Careful manage... ...ndustry and thrift must take the ... of reckless investment and hap... ...ard methods, and when they have ...so more than half the battle for ...erity will have been won.

...here is no doubt that California possesses superior resources and natural advantages, but these are yet handicapped by imperfect methods of transportation and marketing, and by a lack of capital to develop and utilize many resources that are essential to rapid development. This will come when better times again prevail, and California will then have that in which she is now so conspicuously lacking, a large population and a home market for many products which cannot be advantageously produced for shipment to distant markets.

When business has resumed its wonted activity in the great industrial centers, there will be no more prosperous portion of the country than California. The elements of wealth are all here, and a demand for what we are so abundantly able to produce is all that is lacking now to set us on the high road to prosperity. That 1895 will bring these conditions in a measure, at least, there is sufficient reason for believing.

CONSTABLES AND THEIR FEES.

At the December session of the supervisors of Kern county bills amounting to $1667.04 were allowed to seven constables, or an average of $238.15 to the officer. Such luxuries as constables come high in Kern county, as they do in some other counties of the state, and the fact is of serious moment to the people. In the case under consideration, for instance, of course an outsider does not know the exact facts, but it does not seem unreasonable or unjust to presume that the services of the seven constables for a month were not worth $1667.04, nor one-half that sum, to the people of Kern county. Constables down there may be of the gilt-edge kind that are worth $238 apiece to the taxpayers, but one may be permitted to doubt it. Under the outrageous constabulary system of many counties of this state, men who never earned $75 a month in their lives suddenly blossom out as financiers who think nothing of making triple that sum.

the writer has known the tramps have been passed on from town to town and constable to constable, as a barrel of sugar goes in the process of trade from manufacturer to wholesaler, from wholesaler to retailer and from retailer to consumer.

The coming legislature may do a good work by a general law changing the constabulary fee system under which the taxpayers have been so long and so incontinently bled. Fresno county has set the example by limiting constable fees to a reasonable figure.

IF the reported destruction of the Florida orange crop is verified, the fact will be of very great importance to the growers of California who have not yet disposed of their crops. The loss of 3,000,000 boxes will leave a shortage in the market which will insure much higher prices for the California crop than have been realized for several years. The crop in this state is an excellent one, and the exceptionally high prices which are likely to be received, coupled with the setback which the loss of crop and destruction of young orchards will give the industry in Florida, will create something akin to a boom in citrus fruit production in California. While the misfortune of Florida orange growers is deplorable in the general sense, the advantage which it will give to the industry in California will not be the less important on that account.

THE San Francisco Chronicle's New Year edition was full of interesting facts and statistics which should be used in advertising California's resources throughout the east. It treats exhaustively of the state's mining, agricultural, horticultural and other features, and is in those respects the best publication of the season, but this is a position which is always occupied by the Chronicle's New Year edition.

THAT excellent paper, the Pasadena Star, issued a New Year edition which was full of interesting information concerning the fairest little city of the beautiful southern country. It was a credit to the Star's publishers.

RANDOM REMARKS.

A correspondent complains that THE REPUBLICAN did not enthuse over the result of the football game between Stanford and Chicago, at Los Angeles. 'Tis true; 'twas a sad oversight. But perhaps it is not too late even now. 'Rah! 'Rah! 'Rah for—for—who won the game? 'Rah for them, anyway!

Day before yesterday a red hot stove was stolen from a sentry box within thirty feet of the main door of the White House. The fact will lend weight to the awful dread which has seized upon the administration lest our Grover shall be carried away from the haunts that knew him. It does seem as if a man who could steal a red hot stove would have a fair capacity for abducting even the Man Who Is Not Afraid of Bonds.

TO MARY JANE—IN 1916.

I ask not, love, that you shall lay
Earth's treasures at my feet;
I ask not that your kisses may
Make my poor life complete;
I ask not that your lips shall tell
The tale my heart would hear,
For that you love me, love me well,
I could not doubt it, dear.

No, not for these, though sweet, indeed,
Would I recall you now;
'Tis not for me nor all I plead
With anguish on my brow;
But since in haste, this bitter morn,
You donned the things by chance,
(Nay, turn not now with looks of scorn!)
Bring back, bring back my pants.

Seventh Day Adventists of Battle Creek, Mich., recently donated jewelry, silverware, watches, bicycles, etc., of the value of $35,000 to the church, in view of the approaching end of the world. Just what the church will do with its jewelry and notion store after Gabriel blows his horn is a problem that nobody but an end-of-the-world man could answer with any satisfaction to himself or anybody else. Disembodied spirits would'nt look pretty on a bicycle or carrying a Waterbury watch, anyway. At least, it strikes a gentile in that way. This, however, may merely show how little an outsider knows about things.

Stockton may have it. Fresno's hard-earned reputation as a tough town is now comparatively a misfit; we have been distanced on the homestretch by the city which sits at the north of the San Joaquin valley. Time was when at every "bad break" that was made down here the Stockton editors were wont to say, "Aha! Another Fresno man for breakfast," and then they would chuckle in fiendish glee. They chuckle no more, for never the morning light now dawns on their city when they may be sure that another man will not be pistoled to the unexpected hereafter before the evening shades have fallen. Twice within a week or two have citizens of that city shot men to death or thereabout. Stockton, our mantle of toughness is on your shoulders; it fits you well; wear it—until the legislature meets in Sacramento.

Minnesota.

From the Chicago Herald.

Minnesota,
Colder'n blazes,
On the plains of Minnesota,
Here is where the chilly north wind
From the land of Manitoba
Comes and blows right through your whiskers,
And shins down your spinal column.
While your nose gets white and brittle
As you wander down the roadway,
And your ears stand out like winglets
As you meet the chilling zephyrs,
In the state of Minnesota.

Minnesota,
Darn my liver,
Let me shake your icy fetters
And your breeze from Manitoba.
Here they shuck the furry varmints
And they skin the hairy bison,
For the hides will make the clothing
To keep out the chilling weather.

In St. Paul they build a palace
Build it solely out of water;
Stand the water right up endwise,
Stand it there until it freezes,
Freezes harder than blue blazes
By the breath of Manitoba
In the freezing Minnesota

Minnesota,
Gosh all fried cakes,
Please take in your wintry weather,
Till I skip from out your border
To a land not made of ice cakes,
To the land of California
Where the breeze is summer laden,
And the bright and sparkling river
... its bosom,
...hro' the valleys
...dant hillsides,

Plant Waste Land to Forest Trees.

From the Modesto Herald.

It is somewhat surprising that on these treeless plains our farmers do not devote a few acres to forest trees. On every farm there are small tracts that for some reason or other are uncultivated. This land could easily be made a source of profit by devoting it to say locust or eucalyptus trees, both ready growers and yielding a surprising lot of wood in a comparatively few years. Locust posts, by the way, are almost everlasting. The black walnut, too, should do well on our lands with a little attention. While not attaining growth as fast as the locust and eucalyptus, the wood is very valuable for cabinet furniture uses and is in demand, single trees netting as high as a hundred dollars. Nor are these trees profitable upon the plans for their value in wood or lumber alone, but it is a well-established fact that forest groves have their influence on the climate, increasing the rainfall. Again, they are valuable in contributing to personal comfort by their shade, and to comfort and utility by breaking the force of the winds that now sweep the sands in blinding gusts throughout the valley, in their course damaging young or heavily leaden trees and grain fields. No farmer on these plains can make a better investment than by utilizing waste acres here and there to the growth of forest groves. The trees are hardy, and with minimum attention the first year, or two first years, at most, rapidly become valuable in more ways than one.

Miles Wallace, assignee of the estate of John Krohn, an insolvent debtor, plaintiff, vs. D. R. McKenzie, Frank Rule and W. J. Dickey, defendants.

WHEREAS, AN ORDER OF SALE IN THE above-entitled action to me directed was issued out of the Superior court of the said county of Fresno on the 12th day of December, 1894, on a judgment and decree of foreclosure of mortgage rendered therein and docketed on the 9th day of January, 1893, in favor of the defendant W. J. Dickey, defendant in said action, and plaintiff in his cross complaint filed in said action, against the defendants D. R. McKenzie and Frank Rule and the said plaintiff Miles Wallace, assignee of the estate of John Krohn, an insolvent debtor; and also in favor of the said plaintiff Miles Wallace, assignee as aforesaid, against the said defendants D. R. McKenzie and Frank Rule, which said judgment and decree is recorded in judgment book vol. 4 of the said Superior court at page 415, and is in favor of the said defendant W. J. Dickey upon his cross complaint for the sum of $535.57, costs of suit, together with the sum of $154 additional attorney's fees allowed by the court upon the appeal of said action to the supreme court, and also the further sum of $4559.40, together with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of said judgment, and accruing costs, and in favor of the said plaintiff Miles Wallace, assignee of the estate of John Krohn, an insolvent debtor, against the defendants D. R. McKenzie and Frank Rule for the sum of $4220.50, together with the costs and attorney's fees allowed to the said plaintiff in said action upon the foreclosure of his said mortgage against the two defendants, D. R. McKenzie and Frank Rule;

And whereas, I am commanded by the said order of sale to sell the mortgaged property to satisfy the two judgments aforesaid, first satisfying the judgment of the defendant and cross-complainant W. J. Dickey, and then the judgment of the plaintiff Miles Wallace, assignee, etc., with costs.

Notice is hereby given that on Thursday, the 24th day of January, 1895, at 12 o'clock p.m. of that day, in front of the westerly or front door of the courthouse in the city of Fresno, county of Fresno, State of California, in obedience to the commands of said order of sale, I will sell the mortgaged premises described in the said order of sale as follows, which said premises are situate in the county of Fresno, state of California, and are bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twenty-three, in Township eight south, range twenty-one east, M. D. B. and M.; thence along the north line of said southeast quarter of northeast quarter fifteen chains east; thence at right angles south five and 6-100 chains; thence at right angles west twelve and 86-100 chains to the center of Fine Gold Creek, at a point five and 6-100 chains south of said north line of said southeast quarter of northeast quarter; thence westerly meandering along the center of said creek about three 54-100 chains to the west line of said southeast quarter of northwest quarter, and thence north along said west line two and 51-100 chains to point of beginning, containing about seven 9-10 acres, together with the improvements thereon including a ten stamp quartz mill, with all the machinery, engines, boiler etc., and all water and water rights belonging or appertaining thereto.

Also that certain mining claim situate on and near said Fine Gold Creek commencing just above and near said mill and running along the vein a distance of fifteen hundred feet up the creek known as the "Last Chance Mine" and particularly described in the location thereof as recorded in book "E" of Mining Claims at page 8, et seq., of Fresno county Records, located by D. R. McKenzie on the 11th day of February, 1881.

Original Summons.

In the Justice's court of the third Township, county of Fresno, state California.

E. M. Burris, agent, plaintiff, vs. Owen Murray defendant.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Owen Murray defendant.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO APPEAR in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the Justice's court of the third Township, County of Fresno, State of California, and to answer before the Justice at his office in the said Township, the complaint filed therein, this day and date, within five days, [exclusive of the day of service] after the service on you of this summons if served within the Township in which this action is brought; or, if served out of said Township, but in said County, within ten days; or within twenty days if served elsewhere.

The said action is brought to recover a judgment against you for the sum of $236.15 alleged to be due from you to plaintiff for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered to you at your request at this Township within two years last past, and for costs of suit, as more fully appears by the complaint on file herein, to which you are referred.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint as above required, said plaintiff will take judgement against you for $236.15 and for costs.

Make legal service and due return hereof.

Given under my hand this 13th day of March, 1894.

H. Z. AUSTIN,

Justice of the Peace of said Township.

Their sons and daughters have been raised here with high standards on mat... ters of literature, art, music and the drama. It follows that when third rate performers come to Fresno expecting to be rated above their class, they meet with a very frigid and discouraging re... ception.

The uniformed rank Knights of Pythias gave two very enjoyable hops last year and everyone is waiting anx... iously to hear from that organization. Unfortunately the Knights have had much to contend with in the way of members leaving town for other fields, and some of the most active workers have been prostrated by sickness. But they will be heard from in good season, beyond all doubt.

Fresno is a city of colonies, socially as well as agriculturally. We have a Rus... sian colony, a Mexican and Spanish col... ony, a French colony, a German colony, a Danish and Swedish colony, a Slav... onian colony, an American colony, and last but not least, an English and a Scotch colony. All these people keep up their old country traditions, socially, and evince a strong desire to perpetuate thier patriotism by celebrations of anni... versaries, etc., but they work quite har... moniously side by side with the Ameri... cans, and there is no want of homo... geneity in the aggregation when it comes to local issues and proof of good citizen... ship. This goes to prove that the ca... pacity of this great republic to absorb and assimilate the most diverse elements is fully equal to requirements, though outside of San Francisco there is proba... bly not a city in California in which the diversity of language and race is so great as in Fresno.

The firemen's marquerade ball was as usual a success, but the rival costumers who bid for patronage have been heard to complain bitterly of dull times. One of them brought down with him the purple robes of a monarch, the cost of which for the evening's wear was $8. There were several princely costumes at $5, but even this attractive offer fell on deaf ears. The old time clown, devil, policeman, Chinaman and hod-carrier were good enough for the gentlemen, while not a few of the ladies made up their own costumes.

THE FOOTBALL GAME.

SELMA WON ON A SCORE OF 8 TO 4.

Excellent Playing by Both Sides. A Broken Arm Cripples Fresno's Team.

The weights and names of the two teams which lined up against each other at Belmont yesterday is as follows:

Fresno.		Selma.
McSwaine, 185	C	Bixley, 180
Hall, 155	R.G	Dodson, 175

Smith, 151	Q	Scott (Capt.), 148
Donahoo, 165	F.B	Dodson, 160
Black-game, 160	R.H	Hines, 145
Bernhard, 150	L.H	Traber, 155

Total weight for Fresno, 1878 pounds; Selma, 1818 pounds.

About 2000 people turned out to witness the contest. This was the return game for the one played at Selma a week ago last Sunday, and Fresno was again defeated, the score being 8 to 4. The Selma boys proved that they were made of gritty material and that they knew something about the fine points of football. The Fresno team were assisted by Bernhard and Smith of Stanford and Binsingame and Parkhurst of Berkeley, until Parkhurst was retired on account of a broken arm. The Selma boys were ably assisted by Ferguson and Holton of Berkeley, the former of Fresno and the latter of Selma. The Fresno boys objected to Ferguson's playing with the Selma boys, as they wanted him themselves; but he decided to even matters a little, and he played with the Selma team. By so doing he gained the ill will of the Fresnos, and the Selma team claim that the Fresnos sent out the word that they would hurt him in the game yesterday if possible. When Ferguson left Selma yesterday morning he was in the pink of condition, but when he arrived in Fresno and learned of the threats which he heard had been made against him he began to feel shaky; so much so that when he appeared in the field in the afternoon his face looked haggard, and it was plain that he was not the same man that he was a few hours before. But he showed his pluck by entering the contest, and he played a great game notwithstanding the fact the heaviest man in the Fresno team played against him. Both teams played strong games, their team work being exceptionally good.

It is claimed by some of the Fresno boys that it was the breaking of Parkhurst's arm that lost them the game. Both sides agreed that he was a skillful and game player, but the Selma boys say they would have won the game even if Parkhurst had not been hurt. At any rate, they made short and rapid gains through Fresno's lines and won two touchdowns.

Captain Scott received many deserved compliments upon the cool and scientific manner in which he handled his men, and although they have played but three games, they played like veterans. The Fresno team had the advantage in experience and their superior weight told in the second half. Their interference and tackling was very good, and prevented any large gains on the part of Selma.

There were many notable points to be observed.

Sky Hess put up his usual good game at left tackle. Parkhurst would have been terribly in evidence during the game had he not been injured. Binsingame, Bernhard, Smith and Ferguson have benefited by the coaching of Gill and Camp.

Captain Scott says he is ready to quit the gridiron now as he has demonstrated to the Fresnos that they don't know every thing about football. The Selmas played a star game, the fine backing of Hines, Traber, Frank Dodson and Holton was remarkable. Herman Hinds proved himself to be a great center. Roy Hall is a great guard and is fair at all stages of the game.

When Donahoo was slightly injured during the second half, Sky Hess caused some merriment by asking him if he had a skin guard in his pocket.

Some one who may not give due weight to the scientific value of an education in football, remarked that the Selma boys won the game because they brought so many pretty girls with them to encourage them and cheer them on. Whether this is a correct criticism or not, it is a fact that the Selma girls were there in abundance and that their enthusiasm surpassed that of their broth-

PROSECUTED FOR SPITE.

The Case of Rev. T. A. McEachen Formerly of Fresno.

Rev. T. A. McEachen returned yesterday from Redding, Shasta county, where he was acquitted of a serious charge, that of embezzlement, and it was so clearly shown to the satisfaction of the court that he was not guilty that he was discharged without introducing any testimony in his own behalf.

From all accounts his prosecution was spite work. He was formerly pastor of the African M. E. Zion church in this city. Later he was transferred to Redding, but resigned in a short time and returned to Fresno and was here arrested November 10, 1894, on a warrant from Redding, charging him with embezzling $5 of funds belonging to the church. He was kept in jail here five days before being taken to Redding. After his acquittal he was turned adrift without any money, and has since been working his way back to Fresno, stopping in all the towns and doing what work he could do. It was a hard pull, but he finally reached this city, and will endeavor to make a living at the barber's trade. This is a pretty forceable example of some of the injustices which sometimes fall upon the guiltless. The Redding papers, as well as the judge who tried the case, declare that it was a piece of spite work on the part of Rev. McEachen's enemies.

December Weather.

The December weather report issued by Captain J. R. Williams of the Fresno bureau gives a synopsis of the weather for the month just closed, from which the following facts are taken: Mean temperature 49, highest 69, lowest 31, mean temperature of December for seven years 47, total movement of wind 3696 miles, greatest velocity 22 miles per hour, total precipitation 4.09 inches. The average rainfall for this month for seven years 2.43, total rainfall for the season to date 5.48 inches, average for seven seasons past 3.68 inches. There were four frosts during the month.

The chest presents the most vulnerable point of attack for the assaults of the insidious enemy that is always lurking under the supposedly harmless guise of a cold which is the preface of a cough and the open door to the house of consumption. It is all very well to say "don't neglect a cold," but it is much wiser to keep the cold and cough away altogether. Protect the chest with the utmost care. Chest protectors are absolutely indispensable at this time of the year, when the mercury is jumping about in the wildest way. Exclude the damp and chilling air in which disease is always travelling. Keep the chest at an even, warm and healthy temperature and don't expose it needlessly to the damp air. Complete line for sale by

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AND THE ARMENIANS.

The Case as Viewed by the Majority and the Minority of the Council.

A full report is published in The Pacific at San Francisco of the findings of the Congregational church council which convened in Fresno December 17th to examine into the trouble between the church here and certain aggrieved members of Armenian nationality. The report was not made public here, and for that reason was not published at the time. Below will be found such parts of the majority report as are not familiar to the people of this city, and the minority report in full. A brief history of the council, however, is necessary. The First Congregational church of Oakland and the Congregational church of Tulare undertook to have a mutual council between the Fresno church and the aggrieved members; but the attempt to obtain the consent of the Fresno church to that arrangement failed. The church was willing, however, to accept a council called for the purpose of examining into its conduct in the matter at issue. This was agreed to inasmuch as the church had a right to refuse to submit to a committee of the other complexion.

The aggrieved members refused to submit their case to that council. An effort was made to have a mutual one called, but the church would not agree to it. The council, therefore, proceeded to hear the church's side of the controversy and such of the other side as the aggrieved members were willing to give.

MAJORITY REPORT.

It is the opinion of this council that the First Congregational church of Fresno, during the greater part of the time of its existence, has been beset with continual and extraordinary difficulties well calculated to try the Christian patience and discretion, and test the sound judgment of the official brethren and membership, and liable to lead to misconception, misunderstanding and even bitterness. We are also of the opinion that these difficulties have not arisin or grown out of, or have existed on account of, race prejudices between the American and the Armenian members of the church, but are more owing to the fact that American and Armenian members have been born and bred under wholly different conditions and institutions, and have been in great measure unfamiliar with the language of each other. We do not see any just occasion to condemn or criticise the Christian conduct of the church; and we are of the opinion that the Armenian brethern, considering themselves aggrieved, have believed and do believe that they have been discriminated against on account of their nativity, and that they ought not to be harshly judged on account of entertaining this belief. But we are fully satisfied that they are laboring under a misapprehension, much to be regretted, and that we see no possibility of removing. It is a matter that must be left the Christian good faith, and tact, and patience of the native American element of the church, and to the softening effect of time and social intercourse, and increasing familiarity on the part of the Armenian brethren with American institutions and with the English language.

THE SPECIAL FINDINGS.

Agreeably to this general verdict, therefore, the council, upon the question to the adjudication of which it was called, finds—

(a) That the church in Fresno has not broken fellowship with its sister churches of the Congregational name.

(b) That the charges as spread broadcast over the country against the church and its pastor, particularly in the matter of race prejudice, are not warranted by the facts.

(c) That this church is fairly entitled to the full confidence of all our Congregational churches, east, west, north and south; and, like every Congregational church, should be left under the Divine guidance to settle its own problem and to do its own work.

FRANK H. FOSTER, Moderator,
H. V. ROMINGER, Scribe.

MINORITY REPORT.

At the request of the brethren whose names are undersigned, as the expression of their differing opinion, the council voted to print the following paper:

We, the undersigned, although not approving altogether of the method of calling the council, and though not considering it to be a mutual council according to the customary use of the term, have yet attended it in the hope of securing a fair and full investigation of existing troubles, and reaching results that would make for peace.

Not feeling that we can on the evidence make any public deliverance on the charges placed before us, we desire to explain our position by a minority report that bears solely on the methods of procedure in the case.

First—We find that, whatever the merits of their case, the aggrieved persons in this unfortunate controversy have taken strict Congregational ground in a persistent request that their grievances be laid before a mutual council, offering to meet the church on that ground at any time, and on that alone.

Second—We find that the church has as persistently refused this request, thus occasioning in the first place an ex-parte council, called by the aggrieved persons, and now a second council under conditions that make it virtually the same in character, giving us as the chief reasons for this course certain misunderstandings of Congregational usage, and of the position in which it would be placed by such action.

Third—After free conference with the church concerning these misunder[illegible] [illegible] council in the interests of [illegible] standings, [illegible] thorough investigation proposed to both parties the following plan of procedure: That each side should choose two members of this present council, and these four a fifth [illegible] council, and [illegible] should together call a mutual council in the name of the two parties, allowing each side three challenges (or, if necessary, a larger number), in the persons of that body.

This the aggrieved persons accepted; but the church, as it appeared later, still laboring under misapprehensions of the situation, refused, declaring the right to state their case at once.

Fourth—The aggrieved persons having [illegible] published protest, and ing by previous conference with a committee afterwards in [illegible] by this council [illegible] to abandon their position, and testify before a council, in the steps of calling which the church only had been consulted, the personnel of which she accepted, and in the call for which she had joined, while they had been ignored, all possibility for strictly full and impartial investigation of the charges made against the church was to our mind removed.

Fifth—We then protested against further procedure under the circumstances, as calculated to throw in the public mind further discredit on the church, place the council in a false light and further intensify the bitterness in the case, declaring that no adequate ground for any public decisive [illegible] on the merits of the controversy and therefore on the charges [illegible] called to investigate, was possible [illegible] nature of the situation.

The majority, however, having [illegible] what the church had to [illegible] listened to its evidence [illegible] published charges of the aggrieved persons and a partial stenographic report of the proceedings of the first ex parte council, but without any statement of their case by the aggrieved persons, except in desultory remarks as were occasionally called out from aggrieved individuals in the heat of the moment. We therefore now declare:

First—That the reasons given by the church for not acceding to the request of these aggrieved persons seems to us to be inadequate, and unworthy of her apparently sincere and kindly spirit as revealed in her attitude before this council. And we urge her to still set herself in a right attitude to this controversy by a cordial acceptance of the advice to call a council mutual between the parties in the case.

Second—That repeated instances have occurred in the presentation of the evidence to which we have listened that seem to us clearly show that much of the trouble has arisen from misunderstanding of the spirit and action of the church on the part of the aggrieved persons very naturally arising from an imperfect acquaintance with our American customs and forms of speech, which to us is one of the most powerful reasons for a hearty consent by the church to join them in laying the whole matter before such a council.

Third—That, in so grave a case, and one of such wide-reaching relation, no judgment worthy of being placed before the public is possible under conditions in which but one side feels itself justified in presenting its evidence.

We, therefore, utterly refuse on these grounds to make any deliverance whatever on the charge presented, believing that the only way by which the full facts in the case can be reached, and the only possible steps of a final settlement of the difficulty must be by a council mutual between the parties involved.

LOPER-BOWEN.

A Pretty Wedding Solemnized Last Night.

The handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bowen, at the corner of Mariposa and P streets, was lighted and decorated last evening in honor of the marriage of Mr. Bowen's sister, Miss Alice, to Albert M. Loper. Three large rooms were thrown together by the opening of folding doors, and smilax and mistletoe were displayed with taste and effect, while palms as a background for the bridal arch added to the beauty of the interior of the house.

The ceremony was pronounced at 8.30 o'clock by Rev. Martin. "Mendelssohn's Wedding March" was played by Mrs. Platt while the bridal party, led by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bowen, entered. Miss Stella Chance and Miss Rova Bowen were bridesmaids.

The bride and the bridesmaids were elegantly dressed. The wedding supper was served immediately after the performance of the ceremony, and was perfect in all its appointments.

Mr. Loper is foreman of the Madary planing mill, and has built a nice residence on P street between Tulare and Kern.

Among those who were present at the marriage and who sat down to the supper were:

A ROYAL SCANDAL.

Rather a Bad Breakup Between the Prince of Waldemar and His Wife.

It is impossible for newspapers any longer to ignore the scandal which has been talked about in every court in Europe for months past. The persons most affected are Prince Waldemar of Denmark and his wife, born Princess Marie of Orleans. The couple were married in 1885 and have three children. In the last year or two there have been frequent quarrels. The pair are now apart, the prince remaining with his children in Copenhagen and the princess staying with some members of her family in France. If the friends and relatives do not succeed in reconciling the young people, there will be an action for divorce.

The princess accuses her husband of unfaithfulness, and it is alleged against her that her eccentricities have made her name a byword in Denmark. It is asserted that she is a habitual taker of morphine and an excessive smoker of cigarettes, even in the public streets; that she has shown an absurd and imprudent partiality for the firemen of Copenhagen and is constantly attending conflagrations and distributing cigars and cigarettes among the officers and ordering liquor for the men, and that she was so lacking in good taste as to have herself photographed in fireman's uniform, with the result that copies of that photograph are to be found in all the fire stations.

Furthermore, the princess is accused of having upon more than one occasion insulted the late Czar Alexander, and also her mother-in-law, Queen Louise, to the great pain and annoyance of the entire family. Such is the husband's case against his wife. The latter has made no statement of her grievances, which are understood to be numerous, beyond the general charge of misconduct.—Copenhagen Letter.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

FELL FROM A TRAIN AT KINGS RIVER.

Suspicion That He was Knocked Off by Tramps—The Particulars.

A brakeman named W. B. Foster lost his life last evening at the bridge crossing Kings river south of Kingsburg, but whether it was due to accident or to the act of tramps is not yet known. He belonged to the train which leaves Fresno just before 6 o'clock. When the train was approaching the river it was discovered that a number of tramps were riding on top of one of the coaches, and Foster climbed upon the car to put them off.

This was the last time he was ever seen alive. The train ran as far as Delano before he was missed. A tramp then gave the information that he had seen the brakeman fall off the car at the bridge. When the tramp had told this he slipped away and could not be found. But another tramp, who had also been stealing a ride, was arrested, and will be held as a witness.

When it was learned that the brakeman had fallen off, a dispatch was sent to Fresno and a special train went down to the scene and Dr. Maupin accompanied it. When the train reached Kingsburg it was learned that a section crew had already discovered the dead body and had taken it across the river. An inquest will be held by the coroner of Tulare. The brakeman had not been on the road long. The fall so wedged the body in among the timbers of the bridge that it hung head downward and it was necessary to saw some of the timbers off in order to remove the body of the unfortunate man. The supposition is that the tramps threw Foster off the car, but there is no direct evidence as yet on that subject.

SOME PEOPLE'S RELIGION.

Marion Crawford Writes a Pointed Little Lecture on Intolerance.

There are very good and devout men and women who take the world—present and to come—quite literally, as a mere fulfillment of their own limitations; who look upon what they know as being all that need be known, and upon what they believe of God and heaven as the mechanical consequence of what they know, rather than as the cause and goal, respectively, of existence and action; to whom the letter of the law is the arbitrary expression of a despotic power, which somehow must be looked upon as merciful; who answer all questions concerning God's logic with the tremendous assertion of God's will; whose God is a magnified man, and whose devil is a malignant animal, second only to God in understanding, while extreme from God in disposition.

There are good men and women who—to use a natural but not flippant simile—take it for granted that the soul is cast into the troubled waters of life without the power to swim or even the possibility of learning to float, dependent upon the bare chance that some one may throw it the life buoy of ritual religion as its only conceivable means of salvation. And the opponents of each particular form of faith invariably take just such good men and women, with all their limitations, as the only true exponents of that especial creed, which they then proceed to tear in pieces with all the case such an undue advantage of false premise gives them. None of them has thought of intellectual mercy as being perhaps an integral part of Christian charity. Faith they have in abundance, and hope also not a little; but charity, though it be for men's earthly ills, and theoretically, if not always practically, for men's spiritual shortcomings, is rigidly forbidden for the errors of men's minds. Why? No thinking man can help asking the little question which grows great in the unanswering silence that follows it.—Marion Crawford in Century.

Hungry Pike.

One of my sons, aged 15, went with three other boys to bathe in Inglemere pond, near the Ascot race course. He walked into the water to about the depth of four feet, when he spread out his hands to attempt to swim.

At that instant a large fish came up and took his whole hand into its mouth, but finding itself unable to swallow it relinquished its hold, and the boy, turning round, prepared for a hasty retreat. His companions, who saw the fish, scrambled out of the pond as fast as possible.

My son had scarcely turned around before the fish came up behind him, and seizing his other hand crosswise inflicted some very deep wounds on the back of it. The boy raised his free hand, which was still bleeding, and struck the great fish a hard blow on the head, when it disappeared. The other boys assisted my son to dress, bound up his hand with their handkerchiefs and brought him home.

We took him to the surgeon, who dressed seven wounds in one hand, and so great was the pain the next day that the lad fainted twice. The little finger was bitten through the nail, and it was more than six weeks before it was well. The nail came off, and the scar remains to this day.—Fishing.

Dislikes the Bicycle.

The latest opposition to the bicycle comes from an utterly unexpected quarter—the Thames boatmen. "Shiver them bicycles; they've ruined my business! Instead of a hundred boats out on a fine Sunday, each with a young lass in the stern sheets and her beau at the oars, not 20 put out from the float. My old customers wheel over the bridges instead of running under them."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sadie Martinot and Her Company.

At the Barton opera house on Monday, January 7th, will undoubtedly occur an event that will bring forth our most discriminating and fashionable theater goers, it being the appearance of Miss Sadie Martinot in her successful comedy, "The Passport," by Stephenson and Yardley, authors of "The Nominee." Miss Martinot's earnest work throughout her professional career has endeared her greatly to theater goers, as has been shown by the representative gatherings of social importance that have everywhere greeted her this season. The characteristics that are the making or unmaking of every actor are peculiarly noticeable in her case. There seems no one on the stage who can infuse such soft, subtle touches of feeling and comedy and imbue it with so much natural sweetness.

Every effort has been made by Manager Southerland to give as high class a production as possible. Mr. Max Figman, the celebrated stage manager and actor, will be Miss Martinot's leading support, and they will be assisted by well known artists. Miss Martinot has recently purchased some very elaborate costumes in England in which she will be seen.

The comedy has made a hit that has amounted almost to a sensation wherever it has been produced this season, and taking into consideration that the play itself, with its genuine fun and ludicrous situations, has made an individual success the attraction with Miss Martinot should command universal attention.

Order of Adjudication of Insolvency.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of Charles Clark, an insolvent debtor.

CHARLES CLARK HAVING FILED IN THIS court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, from which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said Charles Clark is hereby declared to be insolvent. It is hereby ordered that Jay Scott, sheriff, be, and he is hereby appointed receiver of the property of said insolvent, and that upon his giving a bond to the people of the State of California, conditioned as required by law, and in such sum as the court may order, and qualifying, he take charge and possession of all of the estate, real and personal, of said Charles Clark, insolvent debtor, whatsoever and wheresoever situate, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all his deeds, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep and care for and dispose of the same until the appointment of an assignee of his estate. All persons having the same or any part thereof (including the sheriff of the County of Fresno) in his or their possession, are hereby directed to deliver said property to said receiver, and all persons owing money to said insolvent are hereby directed to pay the same to said receiver, and that said receiver keep the said property, or the proceeds thereof, till the further order of this court, and all persons are hereby forbidden to pay any debts to said insolvent, or to deliver any property belonging to such insolvent, to him, or to any person, firm, corporation or association, for his use, and the said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property until the further order of this court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor be and appear before the Hon. J. R. Webb, Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, in open court at the court room of said court, in the County of Fresno, on the 5th day of January, 1895, at 10 o'clock a.m., of that day, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in the Fresno Morning Republican, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the County of Fresno, as often as the said paper is published, before the day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against said insolvent be stayed.

...ON THIS YEAR ...SUALLY SPOTTED

...hern Counties Of State Have Heavy Yields, But South Falls Off

This year's crop of walnuts is the biggest ever and almost the earliest sold. Excepting the culls now being cracked and packed, there is hardly a car of California nuts available.

In reviewing the season's work Manager Thorpe of the growers' association, calls attention to the quickness with which all the offerings were absorbed and to the further fact that an early final settlement will be possible with the members. Best of all, the market warehouses do not contain a pound of holdover which will be embarrassing to the 1923 crop. Thorpe says:

Statement Is Made

"As a result of this strong market situation, the California Walnut Growers' Association immediately started paying the locals 75 per cent of full opening prices as each car of walnuts was shipped, and toward the middle of October raised this percentage to 90 per cent, and at that time brought the payment on all back shipments up to a basis of 90 per cent of opening prices, thus making possible the distribution of substantial partial payments by affiliated locals to their growers from time to time during the harvesting and shipping season.

Season Estimates

"The final estimate of the association's shipments under this season's crop will reach the huge total of 19,680 tons, as against 15,265 tons for last year. This is the largest tonnage ever handled by the association with the exception of the season of 1919, when our pack broke all previous records by reaching a total of 19,847 tons, or only about 1 per cent more than was handled this season, although in that year the state's crop totaled 27,000 tons, as against an estimate of 24,000 this season. Incidentally, it may be observed that the percentage of total crop handled by the association has considerably increased since 1919.

"The crop this season was more spotted than usual. The northern counties (Santa Barbara and Ventura) produced a tremendous crop, smashing all previous records. Los Angeles, Orange and Riverside Counties, however, fell considerably short of an average production, due to the heavy dropping of nuts from one cause or another during the Spring and Summer.

Heat Causes Damage

A further contributing factor to the shortage in the southern counties was an unusually heavy damage by the excessive heat wave of September 16, 17 and 18. Many of the kernels in the nuts were shriveled and dried up by this hot spell, which also caused a considerable percentage of mould, thereby making a much larger percentage of culls than usual, which incidentially made necessary more labor and more expense in the local packing houses in sorting out this unusually large quantity of off quality nuts.

"Some growers in the districts most severely affected by the heat wave will probably feel that the grading at the local plants was too severe. To these growers let us emphasize the fact that the trade is paying a high price for our product. It is only willing to continue paying a high price because it has confidence in the association's policy of always maintaining a uniform high standard for the goods packed under the Diamond Brand. If we lower our standards to a very considerable extent the trade will lose this confidence and it will take us years to regain it.

Foreign Competition

"Those of us who have occasion to continually observe the quality of foreign deliveries, know ... often the imported walnuts ... easily as fine quality as ... average pack of Californ... these foreign goods will ... two to ten cents ... our prices.

"This may ... strange ... in the end it ... logical. The only answer ... that some seasons certain ... of these foreign nuts ... to exceptionally good ... American Holstein Notes

An extensive program for extension work was adopted by executive committee of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, at the annual meeting in Chicago this month.

A budget of $60,000 was authorized for advertising. Half of this amount will be spent on advertising cattle and half on advertising milk to the public.

Chief reasons for this expenditure, according to executive committee members is that the time has come when dairy farmers must spend part of their earnings in the market and sales end of their business as well as in efficient production, and because manufacturers of dairy substitutes have carried on large advertising campaigns. The argument was used that this sum amounts to only a few cents per head for animals owned by members of the association.

Ideal Types Modeled

Authorization was given for the distribution of metal models of the ideal type of Holstein cow and bull. The models will be one-fourth natural size and will be distributed to landgrant colleges upon application. A painting of the ideal Holstein cow and bull, three by five feet and in five colors will be printed on muslin to be distributed to agricultural schools, county agents, farm bureaus and others.

A department of information to supply the agricultural papers and public press with news and information will be instituted. This department will include motion pictures and exhibits also.

New Field Worker

The extension committee authorized the employment of a district fieldman for Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware to work under the direction of the extension office. A second fieldman will be employed for Washington, Oregon and Idaho to work under the direction of the extension office and state association directors. The work of these fieldmen will be supported by the fees for cattle transfers.

In all of the extension work the association is working with college extension departments, county agents, cow testing associations and agricultural papers. A special committee representing the various parties interested has been appointed to assist the association in the policy of its extension work.

At the December meeting 133 new members were admitted to the association.

NEW RULING ON YEAR BOOK

At a meeting of the extension committee of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America in Chicago this month, a resolution was passed declaring that each person applying for Advanced Registry work shall pay a fee of $2 yearly, payable at the time of the first application, for which the applicant is to receive a copy of the Advanced Registry year book.

The new ruling goes into effect with volume 35 of the year book and the charge will be made on and after May 1st, 1923. The chief reason for this action was to distribute the cost among those having tests recorded which is now being borne largely by the association, and to determine the exact number of copies wanted to save waste, it was announced.

The uniformity of May Walker Ollie Homestead's production during her entire yearly test period is an outstanding feature of her record. In no one calendar month did she produce less than eighty pounds butterfat or 2,000 pounds milk, nor did she produce over 3,000 pounds milk in any month. She carried a calf almost six months of her test period.

AT THE recent international livestock exhibition in Chicago "Panama 110th" was awarded the grand championship honors in competition with the best bulk of the Hereford breed from all parts of the United States and Canada. He is a four-year-old and weighs 2,400 pounds. A. B. Cook of Townsend, Mont., recently refused an offer of $50,000 for him.

American Hereford Notes

"The cattle business is coming back," is the catch-phrase in the annual review of conditions just issued by the American Hereford Association. High lights of the review, made incident with the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, are as follows:

Recovery is slow—much slower than might be desired by many—but there is a general feeling that "the worst is over" and that the future holds rosy hopes soon to be realized. A revival of spirit is noted as a result of the encouraging purebred sales of recent months, and as 1923 dawns, Hereford breeders everywhere greet the New Year with renowed confidence, secure in their belief that a widening appreciation of their product, evidenced by an increasing demand and increasing prices for Hereford seed stock, means prosperous times close at hand.

Upward Swing Noted

A tremendous latent demand for the breeder's product exists. As the financial position of farmers and range cattlemen is strengthened, this demand is translated into action—and buying of purebred livestock increases. The upward swing in volume of trade and in price has already begun. It gives every evidence of continued improvement.

Intelligent farmers, many of whom are turning to the production of "baby beef," realize the necessity for the purebred bull. They know they must grade up their cow herds and use good purebred bulls in order to produce the kind of calves which will put on weight at an early age and meet the popular market demand for "handy weight" cattle of choice quality.

Better Cattle Make Profit

The range cattleman and the cattle feeder, confronted with serious losses on poor quality stuff during the last two years, are beginning to realize that they can make a profit only on cattle of the better grade. The killer markets show a tremendous spread between choice cattle and the plain kind—in some cases as much as $8 or $9 a hundred pounds. This indicates in a very direct way the value of high grade or purebred stock from which market animals may be raised.

For the purebred breeder, this situation presents an opportunity that is not only fraught with profit possibilities but inspiring in its prospects for service to the meat producers of the nation.

Only three per cent of the livestock in America are purebreds, according to government statistics. Yet the superiority of purebred beef cattle over common cattle, based on utility alone, is shown to be thirty-six per cent. That is because purebred stock surpasses common stock in conformation and quality, in selling price, in increased production, in more product for the feed consumed, in uniformity, early maturity, ease of fattening and finishing, increased vigor, docility and ease of handling.

Improvement Essential

America's ninety-seven per cent of common and grade cattle must and will be continually improved, through use of purebred bulls. That is why breeders of purbreds have never lost hope entirely, even in the dark days of after-war depression now behind them.

Registrations and transfers of Herefords, as recorded by the American Hereford Association during 1922, are evidence of an increasing trade in purebreds and of the strong confidence in the future felt by breeders.

163 Miles Of Purebreds

A total of 108,430 Herefords were registered during the association's last fiscal year. This is an increase of 3,411 registrations over the previous twelve months and the largest number of Hereford entries ever made during one year.

If paraded single file, the Herefords registered during 1922 would make a line 163 miles long. The American Hereford Record registered approximately 17,000 more cattle during 1922 than were registered by any other beef breed association.

Transfers of purebred Herefords showed a healthy increase during the last year, also. This indicates an increasing volume of trade which is a pleasant sequel to the post-war slump. Transfers in 1922 totalled 69,800, an increase of 4,271 over the previous year.

Volume of transfers first began to pick up in December, 1921, and every month since (with the single exception of April, 1922) has shown a healthy increase over the same m... of the preceding year. This is an average of 450 head per breeder, largely from the range states of Arizona, Wyoming, New Mexico and Texas. The presence of Hawaii in the list is interesting, and the fact that two Kansas breeders rank among the high ten indicates the suitability of Herefords to Kansas grass. BIG HURRICANE FOLLOWED 5,000 MILES IN SOUTH

Wind Affecting Many Ships Tracked For Two Weeks By Weather Bureau

A West Indian hurricane this Fall was followed for two weeks over a distance of more than 5,000 by means of reports made to the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture by vessels co-operating in its marine meteorological work.

This storm originated somewhere between the West Coast of Africa and the Windward Islands and a short distance north of the equator. It first traveled in a west by north direction, trending, like most hurricanes of this type, more and more to the northward as it progressed, and finally recurved to a northeasterly direction about midway between Porto Rico and Bermuda.

Damage Caused

It passed close to Bermuda, causing extensive damage. The United States battleship Maryland, returning from Brazil with Secretary Hughes and other officials aboard, felt its influence, although never nearer than 200 miles to the center.

The hurricane soon reached the eastern part of the ocean. Here its influence extended over the eastern portion of the trans-Atlantic steamer lanes, and a large number of vessels were heavily involved, including the Aquitania. The storm broke up along the west coast of Europe.

Radio Is Used

From the 16th to the 21st of September reports of the hurricane were broadcasted by radio upon information furnished by the weather bureau, but after it passed Bermuda advices were no longer possible on account of its distance precluding radio communication.

When reports from the Aquitania and other ships appeared in the press telling of the storm in which they were involved it was suspected at the bureau that the storm was none other than the hurricane which had passed Bermuda a few days before. This view was subsequently confirmed by ship reports received by mail.

System Extended

In co-operation with European weather services the bureau is endeavoring to extend the radio storm warning system to include the whole of the North Atlantic Ocean.

Oceanic Conditions

The climate of western Europe is influenced very greatly by the oceanic conditions existing to the westward, because in this portion of the northern hemisphere the general trend of atmospheric motions is from the west eastward. It is obvious that the vast body of relatively warm water west of Europe necessarily contributes to mild and humid climatic conditions, says the department.

DIRECTORS ARE ASKED TO KINGS

Farm Bureau In Session At Hanford Bids Regional Officials For Meet

(By Bee Bureau)

HANFORD, Dec. 30. — At the monthly meeting of the directors of the Kings County Farm Bureau held here Tuesday, an invitation was issued to the regional directors of the San Joaquin Valley to hold the next meeting in this city. It is expected that the invitation will be accepted for a date in January to be named later.

Other subjects discussed at the meeting and endorsed were: Some plan to secure a larger supply of gravity irrigation water for the upper San Joaquin Valley. Although the Marsall plan was discussed no definite action was taken on that one proposition; the proposition of increasing the number of European immigrants, which is being taken up by state and national farm bureaus; a road tax for highway repairs and extensions, and a ... on gasoline, trucks and motor vehicles was recommended; a recommendation will be also sent to the coming legislature asking that more stringent laws for the curbing of chicken stealing be adopted.

A membership drive is organized that will reach to all parts of the county, and a committee composed of C. L. Orale, W. A. Long and Mrs. Sarah R... allaback, will have charge of the plans. It is probable that the drive will take the shape of a contest among the several farm centers.

A budget for the coming year's expenses will be prepared by a committee composed of J. A. Romine, W. I. Tibbs and S. M. Ingram, and this committee will also audit the finances of the pa... ...e months. Vice-president ... M. Ingram of the bureau presided at the meeting.

Several weeks of liberal feeding with good roughage and from six to ten pounds of grain a day while cows are dry is good insurance for efficient production in the next lactation period.

Many Sales Made Berkshires And Guernsey Cattle

Grape Wild Farm, of Escalon, breeder of Berkshire swine and Guernsey cattle, reports an active demand both for Guernsey bulls and Berkshires.

Recent sales include a bull to Ernest Wolberg, of Chino; one to W. J. Tirvolpiece, of Montague; one to R. S. Galbraith, of Harmony; one to Amelio Pracca, of Arcata; one to J. H. Arrig, of San Jose, and three in Marin County.

In Berkshires, a sow and boar, went to J. E. McCutchen, of Bakersfield, a boar to Robert Eells, of Modesto; a boar and a sow to B. L. Gaso, of Escalon; a sow to Melton Urain, of Escalon; and a bred sow to A. W. Foster of San Francisco for his stock farm at Hopland.

About seventy-five sows and gilts are being bred for Spring farrow, a number of which will be bred to Grape Wild Demonstrator, by Grape Wild Challenger and out of the famous grand champion sow Grape Wild Rose 8th.

Charley Mauer, in charge of livestock on Grape Wild Farm, thought so well of this young boar he refused to fit him for this year's shows, preferring to carry him along slowly and grow him out.

Stanislaus Farm Bureau To Form Poultry Body

(By Bee Bureau)

MODESTO (Stanislaus Co.), Dec. 30.—Members of the Stanislaus County Farm Bureau who are interested in poultry, will be organized into a poultry department at a meeting to be held in the farm bureau office here January 4th.

W. H. Brooks, assistant farm adviser, who has charge of the poultry work of the extension service here, called the meeting. Project leaders under him will advise together as to the best means to advance the industry. R. D. Hasson, poultry expert of the University of California, will attend the meeting.

PHILIPPINES AT PEAK OF FARMING

Acreage In Six Principal Crops Jumps One Half Million In Year

MANILA (P. I.), Dec. 30.—The high water mark was reached in Philippine agriculture in the year 1921 insofar as the area planted to the six leading crops of the islands is concerned. This is according to the annual report of the bureau of agriculture. In that year, 3,788,567 ... were cultivated compared with ...,855 acres in 1920.

General Dissatisfaction

Notwithstanding the increase in acreage the year was one of general dissatisfaction from a financial standpoint, the report says.

"Because of the record prices prevalent during 1919 and 1920 the cultivation of edible crops, especially rice and sugar, was greatly extended. The area planted to rice in 1921 was increased by 12.7 per cent, to sugar cane by 22.3 per cent, to cocoanuts by 5.8 per cent and to corn by 1.2 per cent.

LAMBS HEAVIER THAN LAST YEAR, DECLARED

Scabies Found In Two North
Counties; Four Bands
Out Of Quarantine

Approximately 20 per cent more sheep and lambs were on feed December 1st this year than on the same date last year, according to this week's circular letter of the California Wool Growers Association. The largest increase in feeding has been in the western irrigated sections, except Montana, the report says.

Other highlights in the letter are as follows:

Increase By States

"Colorado shows an increase in feeding of 30 per cent, the largest number on feed there since 1914. Utah shows an increase of 100 per cent over last year in numbers of feeders. Idaho shows an increase of 15 per cent in the Twin Falls, Jerome and Gooding sections, where 500,000 head are controlled by one large packing concern. Idaho stuff mostly on stubble and hay and will be grain finished at feeding stations adjacent to large markets.

"According to corn belt feeders the numbers on feed December 1st will be moved to market, 31 per cent in December, 35 per cent in January, 16 per cent in February, 14 per cent in March and 4 per cent in April for eastern states and 25 per cent in December, 32 per cent in January, 28 per cent in February, 8 per cent in March and 7 per cent after April 1st for western state. Of those on feed 78 per cent are lambs and 22 per cent sheep east of the Mississippi, and west of the river 54 per cent are lambs and 16 per cent sheep.

Lambs Are Heavier

"In the West the lambs on feed are considered heavier than last year and a larger percentage are northern bred. This with increasing cost of hay and grain may result in an earlier movement than usual."

Scabby sheep are reported by the association in Mendocino and Sonoma Counties. The following herds were released from quarantine during December:

Miller and Lux, Firebaugh, Fresno County; Mrs. Lottie Thompson, Cloverdale, Sonoma County; James O'Keefe, Mount Dome, Siskiyou County; Anchordoqui Brothers, Red Bluff, Tehama County.

Market Information

Market information of the week past is contained in the report as follows:

"Surprise Valley, Modoc County, reports a few small clips contracted to a California buyer at 38c, wool in the grease.

"Chicago: Prices on fat lambs in comparison with previous week show a decline of 25c to 35c. Last week's extreme top price, $15.35. Demand for poultry during holiday season has had its effect.

"San Francisco: According to government market reporter ... stock are barely steady while killers are generally topping out ... by feed lots for immediate needs of limited trade demands. Retailers find outlet lambs narrowing. Bulk of lamb supplies are of heavy averages which are obtaining price reductions by retailers ... in carcass. Lighter ... in demand, but ... would fill immediate needs. ... hundred and fifty good to choice averaging seventy-seven pounds full wooled, brought $13.50. A sizable string of seventy-four pounds clipped brought $12.75 off cars. Five hundred Nevadas averaging seventy-seven pounds full wooled brought $13.50.

Los Angeles: The market is firm on light receipts. A band of 244 choice Utah lambs averaging eighty-six pounds reached $14 Thursday. A string of 233 half fat lambs, averaging ninety-two pounds, sold on Tuesday at $11.25. These were from Inyo County, California. Local packers scouring the West looking for choice light lambs.

This is the sixth time Fowler has secured first award for his pomegranates, which are of the Wonderful variety. The fruit triumphed at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and at a number of state fruit shows.

ESSAY CONTEST
GREAT SUCCESS

Thousands Of Tulare School
Children Take Part In Farm Bureau Move

(By Bee Bureau)

VISALIA (Tulare Co.), Dec. 30.—"Nothing we could have done in our present campaign for more members in the Tulare County Farm Bureau could have won for us greater response or keener interest than the essay contest conducted last week in the rural schools of the county," said L. L. Newton, campaign manager, as he looked up from the pile of papers stacked in front of him representing 101 prize winners from thirty-seven rural schools. It was the most successful effort in this respect I have ever seen."

Total Is Unknown

How many actually participated in the contest is not known, because the teachers sent in only the three graded winners from each school and, in many cases, did not mention how many pupils actually entered the contest for which prizes of $3, $2 and $1 had been offered for first, second and third places, respectively, for each school. That the total papers graded by teachers throughout the county ran into the thousands is, however, estimated.

It cost the farm bureau $200 to furnish the prizes and the money is considered as having been spent for a splendid cause and to have been most valuable as an advertising medium.

Carried Into Homes

In many communities, Newton said, parents were asked by the school teachers to join in grading the papers and one school teacher reported 100 per cent of the enrollment participating in the contest.

The essay contest was put on chiefly to carry the farm bureau campaign into the homes and in this respect Manager Newton declares more success was enjoyed than had ever been anticipated.

Florida Ranchers In Period
Of Five Years Prove
Great Benefits

By the use of selected bulls of superior quality, an extensive beef cattle ranch in central Florida has increased the weight of its calves by from 30 to 50 per cent over that of native calves of the same age.

Starting five years ago, according to W. F. Ward, a former employe of the United States Department of Agriculture and now associated with the ranch, the owners have improved both type and quality.

The breeding operations involve the use of more than 100 purebred bulls and a total of about 30,000 head of stock. In the absence of a sufficient number of purebred bulls, carefully selected crossbred and high grades are likewise used temporarily.

Own Bulls Raised

The ranch raises approximately 90 per cent of the bulls needed and the quality is improving from year to year. The breeds of cattle raised include Aberdeen-Angus, Shorthorn, Hereford and Brahmans.

A small herd of purebred cows was recently acquired chiefly to raise purebred bulls, but the main operations consist in grading up the native stock by the use of superior sires and selling the product for beef.

Quality Is Improved

Officials of the ranch in charge of breeding operations have reported their experiences to the department as a contribution to the "Better Sires—Better Stock" movement. The quality of the calf crop this year is reported as noticeably better than for any year in the past.

Dr. E. D. Ball, director of scientific work, United States Department of Agriculture, ... Secretary Wallace before the home economics section of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges, which held their thirty-sixth annual convention in Washington, D. C., recently, Doctor Ball said in part, speaking of the proposed new bureau of home economics:

"The first thing the department of agriculture has to do in the organization of a bureau of home economics is to get that organization approved by congress, and the bill is now before the committee of the house for consideration.

"If the change is approved, then the next step, as I see it, is to gather together a committee representing the very best thought of home economics and related lines of work that we can find here in America. This committee would have two matters to consider.

Work Is Needed

"A program of research work must be considered, because the work of the department as a whole organization must in the future, even more than in the past, be along research lines. Now is the time to very materially strengthen the scope of research work in the department activities and in home economics.

"The second and more difficult function of the committee will be to select someone to lead the work. A research program depends on the individual who directs and inspires the work. In the final development of home economics in the department of agriculture it seems very likely that it will be a bureau which will have the organization and direction of work that will be carried on in a considerable number of other bureaus.

Magnitude Of Work

"We must think of home economics work as a thing as big and broad in its scope as the whole department of agriculture is. It serves a field as big as the field of the agricultural department. It is entitled, when it comes to its own, to the recognition that the service to agriculture has received, and I feel that this recognition will be forthcoming."

ALLOTMENTS FOR DELHI APPROVED

Twenty-One Out Of Forty
Applications In Final
Unit Passed On

DELHI (Merced Co.), Dec. 30.—Dr. Elwood Mead, chief of the division of land settlement, and Walter Packard, superintendent of the Delhi settlement, met at Delhi recently to consider the applications for farms and farm laborer's allotments in the Delhi Settlement, made since November 1st.

There were in all forty applications of which twenty-one for farms and six for farm laborer allotments were approved. The approved settlers have a total capital of $157,821.32.

Interest in this settlement has grown, since this will be the last colony giving the generous terms of the state, to be established for sometime. There are about seventy-five farms out of the total 400 that are still open for settlement. It is expected that all of the allotments will be disposed of before Spring.

... Missouri a large part of the corn crop is still in the shock, prices are tending upward and there is a keen demand from feeders. Shipments of corn are somewhat curtailed by car shortage in Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

In the Northwest, cold weather has cut the potato movement and potato growers in the Dakotas are now looking to the southern seed market for an outlet. The Nebraska potato crop is the largest

Winter Feeding

In the Northwest farm stock is Wintering in good shape but some local feed shortages are probable in Montana. There is good increase in cattle and sheep feeding in Nebraska and Iowa. Hog feeding is heavy in Missouri. Milk production now running low in the New England States.

Farm Labor Scarce

Farm labor is scarce in the oil field section of Oklahoma and in parts of the sugar belt of Louisiana.

Grinding for cane syrup continues in Louisiana, with quality of sirup good as a rule.

Comparative Results
Show California's Win

COMPARATIVE results which have been received from the International Livestock Exposition at Portland show how the University of California livestock judging team defeated the teams from other universities on the Pacific Coast.

The University of California team acquired a total of 3,715 points, which is 226 more than the University of Idaho team, its closest rival, acquired at the judging contest.

Not only did the State University win the team prize, but three individual members of the team were among the five high point winners. The individual members took first, second and fifth prizes in the individual scores.

Following is a compilation of the scores made at the contest:

	Beef Cattle	Sheep	Hogs	Horses	Total
University of California	1086 (1)	887 (1)	1043 (1)	735 (4)	3715 (1)
University of Idaho	990 (6)	845 (2)	970 (2)	688 (5)	3492 (2)

Ducor Farm Center Is Newest One In Tulare

VISALIA (Tulare Co.), Dec. 30.—The Ducor Farm Center is the latest organization to be created in Tulare County, Bert Dennis, well known grower of the Ducor district, being elected president. The membership is now eighty-five and is expected to grow soon to 125, which would give the unit a working strength somewhat better in proportion to the community population than other centers have.

Eat-More-Meat Campaign

Howard Leonard, president of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, reports that the prospect for the early development of the eat-more-meat campaign are excellent.

Sufficient funds have been collected to warrant the employment of a full-time director to prosecute the campaign. At a meeting of the board in Chicago a committee was appointed to employ a managing director at once.

DAIRY COURSES
WILL BE GIVEN

Four Short Courses To Last
Ten Days At College
Of Agriculture

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE, DAVIS (Yolo Co.), Dec. 30.—Four short courses in dairy manufacturing are offered here by the college of agriculture, to be given February 5th to 15th. These courses are for milk plant operators, creamery butter makers, cheese makers and ice cream makers. These courses, it is announced, are given expressly for experienced men in dairy manufacturing plants, who wish further technical knowledge to keep abreast of the latest developments in the industry.

The course for milk plant operators, includes instruction suitable for distributors of market milk and for the men who are employed in that branch of dairying. The courses are being given in the dull season, so the attendance may be large.

The new dairy industry building, just recently dedicated, has been pronounced one of the most modern and best equipped in the United States, and those attending the short courses will have the opportunity of seeing the building and the latest machinery and of learning of the latest developments in methods.

Farmers' Referendum Is Taken On Legislation

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation is taking a referendum among its members on legislative issues pertaining both to the state and nation.

Members are asked to express their views on national issues relative to forbidding tax exempt securities, increasing the federal farm loan limit, restoration to state railroad commissions of the power of regulating intra-state rates, federal aid for highways, sales tax, longer rediscount periods for loans to farmers, changes in the Esch-Cummins Act, repeal of the Adamson Law, the St. Lawrence waterway project, a truth-in-fabric law, a law against filled milk products, the "Pittsburgh Plus" rate on steel and the Ford proposal to operate the Muscle Shoals project.

All the money you spend on the science of agriculture will be returned to you ten-fold in the increased prosperity of the country.—James Bryce.

Wallace's Report

Weekly review of one phase of the annual report made by Secretary Wallace to President Harding on the work of the United States Department of Agriculture during the fiscal year, 1922-1923. The report was made public early this month.

COMMODITY COUNCILS FORMED

WASHINGTON (D. C.), Dec. 30.—With the desire to be of the largest possible service in the task of restoring agriculture to a prosperous basis, comprehensive studies of the conditions which influence the profitable production of various crops are being made by the department of agriculture through recently established commodity councils, says Secretary Wallace in his annual report.

These councils are composed of representatives of the various bureaus and suborganizations of the department which have anything to do with the crop being studied.

Method Illustrated

"The cotton council will serve as an illustration," the secretary says. "Meetings of this council are attended by the people who understand the soils of the cotton belt, by those who have made a special study of varieties as adapted to certain soils, by the experts in cultural methods, by the entomologists who understand injurious insects, their habits and methods of combating them, by specialists who understand grading and marketing methods and the conditions which influence demand, both at home and abroad, and by many others who have information needed to help bring about the most economical production and marketing of cotton.

Policies To Be Decided

"It is expected that out of these deliberations by the cotton council will come certain definite department policies with regard to cotton. When such policies have been formulated it is expected that meetings will be held with agricultural agencies and cotton farmers in the various cotton-producing sections.

"These meetings should result in formulating policies best adapted to the profitable production and marketing of cotton in the various sections, and the various agencies interested will then undertake to bring these policies to the attention of cotton growers through the cooperative extension agencies of the department and the various states. The same general policy will be followed with regard to all the principal crops.

Regional Bodies

"Out of the deliberations of those councils ... particular crops it is expected there will grow regional councils which will consider in the same thorough and comprehensive way the agriculture of important regions of the country. For example, in the Spring we ... region of the Northwest there are certain large agricultural problems peculiar to that region. The same is true of the Winter wheat region of the Southwest and Central West, and of the corn belt region. The problems to be studied are not limited to the growing of particular crops, but embrace the marketing of those crops, the interchange of crops and commodities, and the relations between the agriculture and the industries of the various regions.

Readjustment Needed

"It seems perfectly clear that developments of the past five years, the important changes in freight rates on agricultural and industrial commodities, and the uncertainties of the foreign market will make necessary important readjustments in agricultural production and marketing.

"Through such studies as are being made in these commodity councils it is the hope of the department of agriculture to be helpful in making such readjustments."

Americans Eating Less
Meat; Number Animals
Declines In Country

Figures and charts on the meat industry of the United States showing that the consumption of meat is decreasing were given in an exhibit, entitled "Livestock Statistics," by the United States Department of Agriculture at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, December 2nd to 9th.

These statistics showed that the United States, while still among the principal meat-eating nations of the world, is undergoing a general decline both in per capita consumption of meat and in the number of food animals in proportion to the population.

This situation was illustrated by a chart of the trend of human livestock population in the United States from 1850 to 1922. Among live stock the number of swine is the most variable, and sheep show the greatest general decline.

The relative positions of the curves in this chart at the present time indicate that the nation will probably experience increasing difficulty in supplying its ever-increasing population with sufficient meat products, and at the same time providing a surplus of those products for export.

The principal meat-eating nations of the world, in order of their per capita consumption, are Argentina, Australia, and New Zealand, with the United States fourth.

POOLERS RECEIVE
MORE FOR WOOL

Five To Eight Cents Excess
In Price Reported By
U. S. Farm Bureau

Pooled wool this year is bringing from 5 to 8 cents more per pound to the producer than the price offered locally. This information is secured from the reports on the various pools as presented at the conference of the American Farm Bureau Wool Committee in Chicago.

Chairman J. F. Walker of Ohio presided over the sessions. Representatives were present from New York, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Montana and Wyoming.

Uniform System

A sub-committee was provided to work out a uniform system of accounting and grading pooled wools. The committee will include representatives appointed by each of the warehouses selling wool co-operatively.

A uniform producer's contract will also be worked out by this committee. It was the opinion of the conference that the contract should be for a period of years. The pools in North Dakota, Oregon, Texas and New York are now operating under contract.

Conference Planned

A committee was appointed to meet the representatives of the United States Bureau of Markets and to present the point of view of the co-operatives as to the proposed new standards of grading.

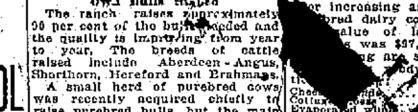

A publicity committee was appointed to work out a campaign for the advancement of truth-in-fabric legislation. This committee is composed of J. B. Wilson of Wyoming, J. C. Holmes of South Dakota, A. J. Hopkins of the University of Wisconsin and Samuel R. Guard ... the American Farm Bureau ... lun.
